Signifier

An IUS BFA Thesis Exhibition

You are cordially invited to the public opening of Signifier on Thursday, March 12, 2020. Signifier is the first thesis show for the Bachelors of Fine Arts students at Indiana University Southeast for the Spring 2020 graduates. The exhibition features two-dimensional, three-dimensional, and four-dimensional works by: Brooklin Grantz (Ceramics), Bradlee Hertrick (Digital Art), Merlin Lee (Digital Art), and Taylor Ryan (Drawing).

Signified and Signifier originated from the theories of Ferdinand de Saussure on studying symbols. This theory connects the symbol with concept or meaning behind it. Each artist makes extensive use of symbol in their work, thus part of this theory was chosen as a title.

Signifier will be located in the Barr Gallery, in the Ogle Center, on the Indiana University Southeast Campus. The opening will be from 4:00 PM to 6:00 PM. Additionally, Signifier may be viewed until Monday, March 30, 2020. The gallery will be open Monday through Friday from 9:00 AM to 5:00 PM. The event is free and open to the public.
